Introducing Sage Future:
A New Conference Experience

Registration is now open for Sage Future ... a new and re-imagined partner and customer conference that expects to welcome 5,000+ attendees from across the US and Canada.

What is Sage Future?
Sage Future is an annual user conference that brings both customers and Sage partners together to collaborate, learn, network, and have a little fun. In a nutshell, it's the evolution of what was formerly referred to most recently as Sage Transform and before that, Sage Summit.

However according to Sage executives, they're transforming Sage Future to be more than just a software conference. The event aims to inspire innovation and growth in the finance and accounting industry through immersive industry sessions, professional development opportunities, and in-depth product explorations.

According to a Sage executive in the ERP division, "At Sage Future, we'll dive into topics that really matter in today's business landscape—such as AI and the evolving strategic needs of the finance function - helping attendees navigate complexity and become catalysts for high performance within their businesses."

Alert! How To Avoid Sage Support Scams
Since Sage is a known brand with customers using their software worldwide, it's also a target for scammers and opportunists. So we wanted to take a moment to provide some tips and resources to help avoid some of these scams.

Don't Use Search Engines to Find Support Contacts
Using Google to search for Sage Support contacts can lead you to fake phone numbers or websites that look like Sage, but are not (particularly paid or sponsored search results).

Initiate Support With In-Product Chat
A great way to initiate support is to use the in-product chat feature which is accessible from the Sage 100 help menu.

Or better yet, contact us directly and we'll either assist or point you in the right direction.
